

Sustainable communication and Bulgaria

What is the biggest problem related with sustainability communication in my country?

- The biggest problem in Bulgaria regarding sustainability communication is the citizens' attitude toward the topic. People are only concerned with the economic aspect of sustainable development.

How does your organisation try to deal with this problem?

We try to lead by example. We do projects that demonstrate sustainability, including all social, economical and environmental aspects.

What support is available for you from EU already and what would you like EU to improve regarding this?

- The only support available to us right now is for the PHARE Civil Society Program and YOUTH Programs.

- We would like to see more opportunities available specifically for NGOs connected to sustainable development.

What message do you want to give with your postcard?

- The message we wish to give with our postcard is that each individual citizen must play a roll in sustainable development. We have to change something in ourselves if we want our society to be sustainable.
